SENIOR COUNSEL

Gary S. Moorefield, Senior Counsel, specializes in complex construction litigation. His experience includes claims of extra cost and/or delay resulting from defective plans and specifications, owner-directed changes or scope-creep, scheduling delays, construction and design defects, water and mold infiltration, fraud, and prompt payment issues.

Gary's project experience range includes a $350M hospital replacement project, a $230M airport facility project, a $960M airport development project, a $35M solar generation project, a $750M power transmission project, a $100M continuing care facility project, a $40M city hall replacement project, a $30M military hotel project and various other small and large projects including football stadiums, process-piping facilities, hospital renovations and new construction, cast-in-place and retail/commercial construction. Delivery and contracting methods for these projects included: design-build, design-bid-build, CM-at-risk, lump sum, fixed GMP, multi-prime, pure CM, and fast-track design & construction. Core services include litigation preparation (all levels and California courts), discovery management, and pre-litigation and/or on-site issue consultation and claims development.

One of Gary's particular strengths is in the area of discovery management and trial preparation. Gary utilizes the latest in electronic discovery tools and management systems for complex disputes. He has created and executed tailored internal protocols for the electronic management, review and production of paper and electronic documents, and to preserve, utilize, protect and/or produce metadata and native-file formats.

Gary received his bachelor of science degree, cum laude, from California State University Long Beach in 1996, and his law degree, cum laude, from Boston University School of Law in 2000. While at Boston University, he was an editor of the Journal of Science and Technology Law, practiced as a student-attorney with the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office, and clerked for the Massachusetts Attorney General. He is admitted to practice law in all of California's state and federal courts.
