

Peckar & Abramson's Latin American Practice Group Participates in 2016 Annual Meeting of Construlegal® in Cartagena, Colombia

Miami, FL—May 18, 2016 – Members of the Latin American Practice Group of the national construction law firm Peckar & Abramson, P.C. participated in the 2016 Annual Meeting of Construlegal®, a working alliance of construction law firms co-founded by Peckar & Abramson and dedicated to serving the construction industry throughout the Americas. Construlegal's annual meeting was held in Cartagena, Colombia on April 14-15, 2016, and included some of the top attorneys practicing construction and infrastructure law from 13 countries in the Americas: Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, the U.S. and Uruguay.

"By combining the talent, experience and deep cultural understanding of the lawyer members of Construlegal®, we are able to deliver a comprehensive and enhanced level of service to our clients on their projects in the Americas," said Jerry P. Brodsky, Managing Partner of Peckar & Abramson's Latin American Practice Group.

Beyond a discussion of current issues, trends and strategies, the members of Construlegal® welcomed the participation and enriching contributions of distinguished clients and other leading professionals in the construction industry – all of whom share a common goal and commitment to the development of vital infrastructure and construction projects needed by so many communities in all member nations.

Construlegal® is an alliance of leading infrastructure and construction law firms throughout the Americas working as a team to deliver integrated legal and business advice to clients in local and international construction law matters. Created in 2011, Construlegal® team members provide contractors and other clients around the world with an enhanced level of service in support of their projects in the Americas. As a founding member of Construlegal®, attorneys at Peckar & Abramson work side by side with other Construlegal® lawyers who are local experts in law, language, culture and politics. Construlegal® members represent major contractors and other key industry participants working throughout the Americas.
