GWIC
GROUNDBREAKING
WOMEN IN CONSTRUCTION

Melinda S. Gentile, Partner and Diversity and Inclusion Chair at Peckar and Abramson, P.C. will co-moderate a panel at the Groundbreaking Women in Construction conference (GWIC) during the Advancing Women in Construction Law breakout session. Alexandra Busch, Senior Associate at Peckar & Abramson, will co-moderate the panel to be held in the Grand Ballroom and Pacific Concourse from 1:45 p.m. to 2:40 p.m. PST.

Businesses and law firms have been searching for the Rosetta Stone that unlocks the secret to advancing women lawyers, but only one conclusion is clear – there is none. Experts suggest a focus on organization culture and its impact on careers. This panel of women attorneys whose careers have taken differing paths will offer insights on the importance of “culture.”

About Groundbreaking Women in Construction

GWIC is much more than just a conference. It is a catalyst for change to inspire women at all levels to develop their leadership skills, expand their influence and boost industry growth potential. GWIC enables attendees to share, learn, challenge and inspire each other to contribute to their workplace and employer and realize career success!

GWIC has grown into one of the construction industry’s premier leadership and talent management events for industry members.
