

MICHAEL A. BRANCA

has been named a Fellow of the American College of Construction Lawyers

Peckar & Abramson, P.C. (P&A) is pleased to announce that Michael A. Branca has been named a Fellow of the American College of Construction Lawyers. The College is an invitation-only association of construction law practitioners, professors and judges. Its mission is to improve the practice and understanding of construction law and to promote the positive role of lawyers in the construction industry. Fellowship in the College is offered to those who have mastered the practice or teaching of construction law and dispute resolution. ACCL Fellows have established the highest standards of ethical conduct, scholarship, professionalism and collegiality, and demonstrated a commitment to “give back” to the construction industry.

“We are honored that Mike has received this acknowledgement by the College, and that he is counted among this group of highly respected peers in construction law,” said P&A Chairman Steven M. Charney. “This level of recognition is achieved through hard work, dedication and commitment to this specific and unique area of law.” Branca joins five other firm attorneys as ACCL Fellows, Adrian L. Bastianelli, III; Steven M. Charney; Jeffrey A. Ford; Founding Partner Robert S. Peckar; and Firm Vice Chair Stephen H. Reisman.

About the American College of Construction Lawyers

The ACCL is a national organization of lawyers who have demonstrated skill, experience and high standards of professional and ethical conduct in the practice, or in the teaching, of construction law, and who are dedicated to excellence in the specialized practice of construction law. The College provides advanced professional workshops and educational programs to its Fellows and identifies and contributes to the solution of major construction industry legal problems. It is a collegial forum for the exchange and development of ideas by some of the most knowledgeable attorneys in construction law.
