BIO

Abby is an associate in Peckar & Abramson's Government Contracts, Construction & Infrastructure, and Corporate Compliance practices. Based in the firm's Washington, D.C. office, she is equipped to serve clients in both English and Spanish.

Abby is a frequent author, often contributing to the firm's Government Contracts Law blog, where she keeps clients apprised of the latest legal changes and updates. She served as a law clerk with P&A for a year and a half before joining the firm full-time. Abby obtained her B.S.M. from Tulane University's Freeman School of Business, a M.L.S. from the Washington University School of Law, and her J.D. from Tulane Law School, where she was a member of the International Criminal Court moot court team and the Latino Law Student Association.

During law school, Abby served as a clerk for the Civilian Board of Contract Appeals, where she won the Board's annual oral argument competition. She also spent a year as a law clerk for the United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of Louisiana.
