BIO

Nadia Ennaji is an associate in Peckar & Abramson's Miami office and is a member of the Construction & Infrastructure and Litigation practice groups.

Nadia represents foreign and domestic clients in various complex litigation matters. Her extensive legal experience involves all aspects of business and commercial disputes, including matters involving breach of contract, business torts, and injunctions.

Nadia earned a Bachelor of Law degree in Belgium and a master's degree in international law from City University, London. She then obtained her Juris Doctorate, summa cum laude, from Nova Southeastern University.

While in law school, Nadia was a teaching assistant and taught seminars on contract law to first-year law students. She was also senior associate editor of the Law Review and a moot court advocate for the Jessup International Law Moot Court, where she participated in the Moot Court Regionals competition in New Orleans.

Since graduating, Nadia has been a yearly judge for the Jessup International Law Moot Court. She was also a recipient of the Bennett Scholarship and attended the International Advanced Advocacy program at the prestigious Oxford University in England in the summer of 2022.
