BIO

Olivia Juairé is an Associate in the Boston office where she focuses her practice on construction and infrastructure law and litigation. She represents clients in a range of matters involving construction litigation, claims analysis, and project-related risk management.

Prior to joining the firm as an Associate, Olivia completed multiple clerkships, including at P&A, where she supported the Boston office through all phases of litigation and developed a strong foundation in the industry-specific issues her clients face. She also has experience in regulatory compliance, having worked in the field prior to attending law school.

Olivia earned her J.D. from Northeastern University School of Law. She received her B.S. in Cognitive and Behavioral Neuroscience from Villanova University. She is admitted to practice in the state of Massachusetts and the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts.
